Report on awareness campaign on 'social security schemes for unorganised workers'

17 May 2022

Government of India has many ongoing social security and welfare schemes for unorganised workers to address their various issues and improve their livelihood and income. Due to illiteracy and lack of information workers do not know what social security schemes are available to them and how they can access such schemes. These social security schemes are integral part of economics course in sixth semester. Ten students of economics, accompanied with subject teacher Dr. Yashpal Singh, organised an awareness campaign on 'social security schemes for unorganised workers' at labour chowk Ladwa on 17 May 2022 to share the information regarding the registration process, annual charges/ fees, required documents and benefits of the schemes with the workers.
